> "I want to know if the people are going to be so toolish as to fall to listen and realize the dangers existing in America today," said Governor Carter. 'Thave no opinion as to what the outcome of the presidential contest will be; I could not have coming from Hawaii, but I am, of course, a stanch supporter of Theodore Rooseveit, who I take to be the greatest conservative force in America.

> "We must stop misusing that word 'conservatism' when we mean merely the destructive standpatism that ruled and ruined at the Chicago convention. "Theodore Roosevelt is a conservative-a man with a saving sense of balance, as ready to say no to the ex. tremists who serve great wealth as he is to the extreme radicalism of socialism. Roosevelt is not the flambuoyant radical he is painted by his enemies one moment, nor the tool of vested privilege, as they claim be is the next moment. He is merely a man wise enough to hear the rumble of social danger.

Crisis Is Real. . "The Bourbons laughed at the possi bility of danger in the days before the French revolution. They trusted to the enormous strength of their armies, but that strength proved useless at the test. No strength, no organization can stand against what that French army met. I am here to watch, to see if the American people can be so foolish as to laugh at their danger. "Let the people remember that the interests ruthlessly destroyed the Republican party in their attempt to defeat Roosevelt. Their delegates said openly in New York that they did not care if they did 'bust the party' so. long as they 'beat Roosevelt.' The party is busted, but Roosevelt is not beaten yet. "But there was nothing in the Honolulu papers to show that Roosevelt had a ghost of a show at Chicago. We did not know, from anything we could have read in our local papers, that the break at Chicago was anything more than the mildest schism-the unimportant movement of a small infloority. I have no doubt that in the reports in the Honolulu papers the enthusiastic Roosevelt meetings here and in Los Angeles will be reported as crosts on account of the wild enthusiasm showa ic: Harlan."

"But even Honolulu 's slowly awakening to the importance of this movement and there is a growing feeling there for Roosevelt. Our opinions, unwe are only spectators in the Presidential campaign, having no represen-

"Our delegates to the convention were, instructed for Taft, but there DELIVERED NEXT MORNING were several reasons for this. Both factions in the islands were anxious to palliate the executive to secure or We Solicit Your Business to palliate the executive to secure or Governor Frear. Taft has from the first consistently flirted with both parties and now he doesn't know which one to jilt. That's why Secretary Fisher has been sent to Honolulu to 'investi-

> "We have been awaiting the appointment since last December. The delay has occasioned no end of inconvenience. Frear has been unable to adopt any definite line of policy, not knowing from one day until the next whether he would be Governor tomorrow. Many of Frear's opponents would have preferred his appointment to this prolonged uncertainty. But we have been unable to help ourselves. We had only to sit and await the President's pleasure."
